

The lost kitten - A reading and listening comprehension

It's a nice, sunny Saturday afternoon and Simon and Luna don't know what to do. "Let's go to the park!", says Simon. "That is a great idea!", Luna answers and puts on her shoes. Then they leave the house and take their bikes with them. After they arrive at the park they lock their bikes up. Simon and Luna go over to the playground. Luna goes on the swing and Simon climbs on the tree. Then they suddenly hear a "Meow" next to Simon on the tree. Simon looks to the left and sees a little kitten next to him. The little black kitten looks at Simon scared. "Look Luna, I don't think it knows how to get off the tree!", says Simon. "Oh no! Help the kitten.", Luna answers hysterically. Simon carefully picks up the kitten and puts it on the ground, but the kitten doesn't move. "I think she likes us! Can we keep her Simon?", Luna asks. "No, I think she belongs to someone. Let's go home and try to find the owner!", says Simon. Luna wraps the kitten into her jacket and puts it into her bicycle basket. Then they drive home again. At home, they give the little kitten some milk. Luna's and Simon's mum helps them print pictures of the kitten to hang them up outside. After printing out the pictures, Simon and Luna go and stick them onto every tree in the neighborhood.

In the evening Luna sits on the sofa with the kitten in her arms. Suddenly they get a call. It's the owner of the kitten. Luna looks sad, but she knows that she must give the little kitten back. On the next day the owner, a nice elderly woman, comes to pick her up. As a thank you she gives Simon and Luna some chocolate, but Luna is still sad. Later that day the children's mum leaves the house to do some shopping and comes back shortly after with a little grey kitten in her arm which she gives to Luna.
